Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

A good many years ago "In Darkest Africa" with its tales of saddistic orgies of the blacks there, was a popular book in this country. The other day there was a public hanging in one of the county seats in Kentucky. A white man died on the gallows for rape and the countryside gathered for the spectacle. Before he was dropped through the trap the doomed man was permitted by the sheriff to have his "say." It took him forty five minutes to say it, and during his harangue, he declared the woman he had violently wronged, would have considered the wrong righted, had he given her $500. "No", she answered from the crowd, "not for a $1,000." When he had had his "say," he was hanged. Why bother to read such tales as "In Darkest Africa?"

It must be fifty years since California sheriffs did their own hanging in jail yards of county seats, when the population gathered for miles around to see a man publicly atone for his sin. By fifty years then California is that much ahead of Kentucky in, at least, the matter of capital punishment. No matter how bad the man, nor how much he merit death as a punishment, he should be permitted to die privately.

Speaking of progress in the methods of putting men to death, it is noteworthy that Clarence Frechette, than whom no more hardened killer probably ever lived, being returned to Michigan from Nevada City was convicted of murder in the first degree by the jury and condemned to life imprisonment. Michigan puts no criminal to death but does incarcerate the worst of them for life. This is not, perhaps, the most humane treatment for the prisoner. Most men would prefer death to slavery for life behind stone walls. But it is the most humane from the standpoint of the people, who are spared the news of brutal and medieval death scenes. The objection to abolition of hanging in this state is based on popular distrust of our political institutions. The question is raised: "Would a murderer, condemned to life imprisonment, ever complete his sentence"? Nobody can answer the question in this state, but the record of several states which impose this sentence might be studied with advantage. Even in this state, Mooney, despite nation wide attempts made to rfee him, is still in prison.

Lord Beaverbrook advocates for England the policy of the United States, splendid isolation. He qualifies it, however, by "splendid isolation in accord with the UnitedStates." Humbly, we have always been sure that if the Anglo-Saxon peoples of this globe would ever agree on a hard and fast alliance for peace, they could compel world peace, by the simple expedient of placing an embargo on trade and credit to any nation guilty of war aggression.

This doggerel is not original—heaven forbid—but still it has the old time tang of the hard pressed country editor trying to raise the wind. Quite obviously the blank verse contains more truth than poetry.

DEATH CLAIMS AL KELLIHER

Al Kelliher, contractor, who left Nevada City several months ago to reside at the Bitney's Service Station west of Grass Valley, dropped dead of a heart attack yesterday forenoon a half mile below the service station. The body was taken to the W. R. Jefford and Son Funeral Home in Grass Valley. Relatives have been notified and are due to arrive today to make funeral arrangements. He leaves two daughters to mourn his passing.

Mr. Kelliher was a charter member of Banner Mountain Post, V. F. W., of Nevada City and was an active member of the Spanish War Vetrans organization. He with his family resided in the state of Nevada for many years, later moving to San Jose where they lived for some time.

While residing in this district he had been engaged in erecting head frames and other mine buildings for mining properties, having been employed for several months at the Blue Point Gravel property at Smartsville in erection of buildings. He was of a jolly, happy disposition and had made many friends in the county during his residence here

SKI CLUB WILL CONSIDER LEASE

Ski Club members who were present at the meeting held Friday evenink took no action as to leasing or selling the club's property on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway to Henry Nye of Millbrae. Those present felt that they were too small a representation of the club to come to any decision in the matter. They will endeavor to contact all the members before taking any action. Mr. Nye wishes to erect on the property a service etation, store, bungalow and tourist cabins.

OBSEQUIES HELD FOR BELOVED PIONEER WOMAN

The funeral of the late Ellen E. Stewart was held this morning with Mass for the repose of her soul, held at St. Patrick's Catholic church in Grass Valley at ten o'clock. The body was laid to rest in the new Catholic cemetery. The Holmes-Hooper funeral home were in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Stewart was one of the most beloved of the pioneer women of this district. She was eighty six years of age at the time of her death. She was born in Ireland in 1849 and came to the United States in 1860 and to Grass Valley in 1864 where she lived until her death.

In 1868 she married the late Henry John Stewart. They were parents of the following sons and daughters: Henry J., George A. (now deceased) Dan C., Mrs. Frances S. Stewart, Barnes and Dr. Charles L. Stewart.

Mrs. Stewart's active life in the well-being of the community is well remembered by many and it was only as advancing years prevented, that activities ceased though her interest was maintained to the end.

SAN JUAN DANCE TO BENEFIT BALL TEAM

There will be a San Juan Baseball team dance Saturday night, May 4, at North San Juan. The boys are making great plans for the affair. Bud Johnson's orchestra will furnish the music. The receipts of the dance will go for the benefit of the baseball team. Bud Akins is manager.

DANCE BENEFIT FOR MUSEUM AT DOWNIEVILLE

The Mountain Messenger says: Coincident with the removal of a number of landmarks of early day Downieville to make way for the new highway bridge across the North Yuba, and the possible loss of many authentic relics that have been stored in the old buildings, a movement has been launched by the Downieville Parlors of Native Sons and Daughters to provide proper facilities at the Downieville Museum for their safe keeping and display. To this end, the Board of Supervisors at a recent meeting voted a sum of money to provide for the services of a curator.

To raise the funds necessary for the purchase of early day relics and also to provide display cases for their safe keeping, Downieville and Naomi Parlors announce that they will give a Museum Benefit dance at Memorial Hall on Saturday, May 4, and issue a cordial invitation to the public to attend and by thus doing, lend their material aid to this worthy cause.

Excellent music has been provided for the occasion, and nothing will be left undone to assure an evening of pleasurable enjoyment.

Buy a ticket and help preserve Downieville's historic past.

WINE AND BEER TAXES TAKE DROP

SACRAMENTO, April 22.—State taxes on beer and wine sold during March were $14,866 more than the same taxes for February, but were $10,627 less than the corresponding taxes for March, 1924. Since the first of the year there has been a steady decline in the yield from the tax at two cents per gallon on these beverages, according to statistics published here today by the State Board of Equalization.

Fred E. Stewart, board member from Oakland, commenting upon this trend pointed out that, unless sales improve, estimates previously made as to annual revenue from this source must b revised.

"'Last year the March taxes on beer and wine at two cents per gallon were $26,500 more than for February," Stewart said. "This marked a gain of 28.6 percent, whereas the taxes for last month were only 15.9 percent more than those for February of this year.

THRONG ATTENDS DAWN SERVICE

The second annual Easter Sunrise service at the Airport took place in the glow of the morning sun so auspiciously coming forth on Easter Day. Many Nevada City people were inspired by the beautiful setting for the music and the good sermon.

This Easter Sunrise service at the Airport is almost new in this city but as time goes on more and more persons will begin to find it an integral part of their Easter worship.

The following program began at 5:30 a. m.: Opening prayer, Rev. Buckner.

Hymn, "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today,"—Community singing.

Solo, "Hosanah"—Mrs. Lyda Talbot.

Address—Rev. Charles Washburn.

Solo, "The Prayer Perfect"—Mrs. Charles Elliott.

Hymn, "Come Ye Faithful"—Community singing.

Closing Prayer—Rev. Buckner.

Accompanist, Mrs. George W. Gibson.

BOY'S FINGER CAUGHT IN CAR DOOR

The little seven year old son of r. and Mrs. Edward Jones of Camptonville, who have been visiting relatives in Nevada City, on the homeward trip caught his hand in closing the car door and almost severed his little finger from his hand. Dr. A. H. Tickell cared for the injury.

JUROR ILL, BUT N. I. D. VS P. G. E. TRIAL RESUMES

Owing to serious illness of Daniel Canovan of Rough and Ready, member of the jury which is hearing suit of the Nevada Irrigation district against the Pacific Gas & Electric company, attorneys for the two parties this morning stipulated, when the trial was resumed, that eleven jurors would suffice. Canovan was removed to the Providence hospital in Oakland.

Fred Tibbetts, engineer under whom the Nevada Irrigation district's dams and ditches were constructed, resumed the witness stand this afternoon. His testimony was largely corroborative of statements regarding the inception of the contract made by the district with the Pacific Gas & Electric and the work which was done in order to enable the N. I. D. to fulfill its part of the bargain. Under the question of plaintiff's attorney, Mr. Palmer he also confirmed previous testimony to the effect that at the time of beginning delivery of water, in accordance with its contract in July, 1935, the P. G. & E. gave no hint that the water was not welcome, and that it would later seek to escape payment therefor. The N. I. D. brings suit to compel payment of $$200,000 for 67,000 acre feet delivered beginning July 1, 1927.

RIVER PLACERS TO OPEN SOON

There is much activity in and around the old Delhi mine, formerly a big producer. River Placers is also preparing for a big season. As soon as the high water drops, the Middle Yuba will be diverted through the diversion tunnel, completed last season, and the bed, thus emptied will be thoroughly worked. It is expected that cost of the diversion tunnel will be profitably justified. It is reported that the owners of River Placers will either take over Delhi, or that it will run a drainage tunnel into the Alaska, at Pike City, in order to work this heavy producer of former times. Neither of these reports are verified. River Placers is rushing work on its bunk houses and boarding house so that work in the river bed may be begun as soon as the company diverts the river. It is reported that fifty men will be employed and that their crew has already been engaged.

FORMER RESIDENT OF NEVADA CITY DEAD

The news of the passing of W. J. Clemo aged about 70 years, at his home in Stockton Sunday morning, spread over Nevada City with a wave of sorrow among his friends. He leaves several family members to mourn his passing.

Mr. Clemo with his family resided on Piety Hill near the Horace Curnow home, in the house which they still own, moving to Stockton about fifteen years ago. He was a member of Oustomah Lodge of Odd Fellows of this city.

He was employed as a miner in the Nevada county mines for many years and was highly respected by his many friends.

SIERRA COUNTY MINES

OXFORD MINE

Mr. Hinckley, superintendent, is developing the Oxford mine which is located northeast of Downieville and has six men employed.

SIERRA BUTTES MINE

Operation continues at the sixth level in the Sierra Buttes mine, with the company milling 25 tons of low grade ore per day. Examination is being made in three tunnels. An assay was made for impounding of tailings and a 10-ton cyanide plant remodeled to handle them. E. E. and J. O. Hayes of San Jose own the property and have worked it since 1902. It is situated on the Sierra Buttes.

Mrs. Henry Huckins of North San Juan and Mrs. Acton Cleveland of Camptonville were in Nevada City Friday and attended the circus.

SCHOOL CHILDREN SELL MAY DAY FETE TICKETS

Tickets for the May Day fete sponsored by Mrs. Lyda Talbot and a group of fifty children are on sale today by the school children. There will be space on the tickets for a vote as to who shall receive the benefit money.

Those participating in the Maypole dance will be in colonial pantallete costume. The children are practicing early and late for the event which promises to be most outstanding.

NEW PARK ROAD SOON TO OPEN

The road through Pioneer park from Park avenue to Nimrod street is now complete except for the top dressing of fine gravel and oiling. The new community house foundations, cement floored lavatories and great fire place base are ready for the superstructure and studing has been erected about the main hall which will be thirty feet wide and sixty feet long.

Rock walled embankments and terraces above and below the swimming pool and change house have been completed and are now ready for planting shrubs and trees.

Upstream from the bridge over which the new road crosses Little Deer Creek is a charming rocky dell shaded by trees in which four rustic fire places have been built around one chimney.

UNEMPLOYED URGED TO HELP THEMSELVES

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—Life must begin at forty for millions of American citizens, who, as victims of the depression, have lost all opportunity to resume their former places in business and industry, in the opinion of George C. Mann, Chief of the Division of Adult and Continuation Education of the State Department of Education.

"The so-called preparation for life," Mr. Mann said, "which all of us had in our youth, does not now suffice in mauy cases for the many millions who will never return to their old jobs or work.

"There has never been a time in the history of our country when there has been a greater will to know, a will to understand the possible solutions of the problems of the time. People everywhere are seeking solutions, and in the seeking many are willing to follow well-sounding theories whether or not they have any basis in fact. Democracy as a form of government is being attacked on every side, and if we do not follow a sane educational program, guarded and controlled by thinking people, do not think for a moment that multitudes of people will not get social education in some form.

"The program of adult education in California today represents an attempt to stem the tide of destructive forces and movements which are at present threatening, not only our American institutions, but the very fabric of civilization itself."

Hope for the thousands of adult citizens who must learn new trades and skills or adapt themselves quickly to rapid changes, was given by Mr. Mann when he declared that it had been definitely proved that the learning capacity of adults is not less than that of youths.

"The pet alibi of older men and women," he said, has been very definitely removed, and it has been proved that grown men and women can learn as easily as, and sometimes more easily than, children.

"As the result of thousands of tests it has been found that the best all-around learning age is not fourteen as some have claimed, it is not at eighteen when the compulsory school age limit is reached in California; it is twenty five. And after twenty five there is no slackening in the speed of learning up to forty five. From forty five to sixty five there is only a slight decline in the rapidity of learning, and this decline is more fully balanced by a knowledge of relationships that come from experience."

CIRCUS TRUCK GOES OVER BANK

Mountain scenery and mountain roads were a little too much for the circus trucks. As they were wending their way toward Marysville early Saturday morning three of the caravan went off the road, as they were going down the last curve east of the Rough and Ready grade. The first one went off in front of the home of State Fire Warden George Howe. One went off a little farther down and the fourth one went over the grade into the creek.

Fortunately, though less exciting, the trucks and trailers contained long tent poles and other circus equipment and not the animals.

Frank Bartovtich, 37, who had been with the circus only six days, stepped out from behind one of the stalled trucks and was knocked down by an approaching truck. He received a severe fracture of his leg above the knee. He was taken to the Jones Memorial hospital where he will be confined for several weeks.

The second truck driver, seeing the wreck ahead drove his truck off the highway and into a deep ravine where it was stopped with considerable damage to the truck.

The third truck driver, just a few hundred feet behind, tried to stop his truck and turned into a hillside where the truck stopped, receiving heavy damage.

A messenger hurried back on the highway and warned other approaching trucks.

The wreckage was immediately cleared from the highway and the rest of the caravan passed through without further mishap.

Later trucks returned from Marysville and reloaded the circus equipment, poles, seats, etc., that had been left along the roadside.

MARCH REVEALS GAS TAX DECLINE

SACRAMENTO, April 22—Breaking an upward trend begun last December, California gasoline taxes for March total $$3,243,021.56, or $805,490.15 less than the corresponding figure for the same month a year ago. This is a loss of 19 percent.

Richard E. Collins of Redding, State Board of Equalization member announced this sharp decline in revenue here today when the board completed its assessments of motor vehicle fuel taxes for the past month. Explaining that the drop may not affect the annual yield as much as might be anticipated, Collins said:

"Gasoline taxes for March, 1934 were $4,048,000, marking an increase of 24.4 precent over the tax for the same month of 1933. This was larger than the taxes for any month in 1933, although, normally, the yield in the summer months is higher than in the winter and the spring.

"Thus, the taxes for a year ago were abnormal. They were artificially stimulated by a price war which occurred at that time."

Comparing the gasoline tax for last month with the corresponding figure for March, 1933, Collins points out that the recent figure is only $9,000 less than the figure of two yars ago. On this basis he concludes that there is no cause for alarm as to the ultimate yield for the year, particularly in view of the fact that the March tax is $180,000 more than that for February.

The Clampers Are Coming

As one of last year's humble initiates in the revived order of E. Clampus Vitus, it behooves ye editor to raise, the great hewgag to his lips and blow thereon a mightly blast. For, on May 30, to June 1, E. Clampus Vitus will make their annual pilgrimage to these parts from all California. This year E. Clampus Vitus will occupy the old Lozano Hotel at Ophir, our neighboring metropolis. There will foregather these latter Clampers with ponderous dignity to celebrate the glories of the Mother Lode, which gave birth to this distinguished order and to institute again the majestic Hall of Comparative Ovations.

Sole survivors of this mysterious order of E. Clampus Vitus in these parts are Adam Lee Moore of Columbia and William Bull Meek of Camptonville. These patriarchs of the first and original order greatly assisted, with their ivoried documents and green memories, the revival of this brotherhood for dynamiting the world's hoariest hokum. Time was when E. Clampus Vitus on a Fourth of July marched through historic and gold dusted streets of Nevada City, leading in the van their symbolic billy goat whose salient features were covered with gilt. Their flag was a voluminous hoopskirt, borne by four flag bearers, and adorned with the motto: "This is the flag we fight under." The Apostolic Succession established by Patriarchs Meek and Moore is complete. Worthy hands now uphold the ancient tradition.

To Auburn belongs the honor of having a building which the ancient and honorable order of E. Clampus Vitus dedicated. It is the Herald building and the Herald claims to be oldest newspaper in California. James D. Stewart, elected Clamper Editor of that newspaper, states that E. Clampus Vitus participated in laying the cornerstone for the present Herald building and but few people are aware that it was foresighted Clampers who saved the Herald building from subsequent destruction. The cornerstone is really useful in this case and prevents the Herald building from sliding into Auburn Ravine.

"Into the box in the cornerstone went papers of date of laying the stone, a '49'ers uniform (red flannel undershirt and overalls) nuggets of gold from Auburn Ravine and a gallon of finest Kentucky Bourbon. When this "mountain dew" was placed in the box a brawny Clamper grasped the jug, pulled the cork, took a swig and it was passed from mouth to mouth until empty. This thoughtful act surely saved the Herald building for it was certain that the cornerstone would have been pried from its position to obtain the whiskey to the subsequent destruction of the building."

Between Ophir and Auburn this year will be established the Pony Express. While Ophir will undoubtedly be able to provide plenty of good things to eat, the Noble Grand Humbug is not so sure of potables. Consequently the Pony Express riders undoubtedly will be carrying soda water and other soft drinks in their pouches to the Clampers, the spiritual descendants of that mighty and thirsty order.

THORNY PROBLEM OF TAXES FACES STATE SOLONS

(By RALPH H. TAYLOR)

With the 1935 Legislature past the half-way mark, two distinct trends —each endangering the welfare of both agriculture and all other forms of business and industry—are clearly evidenced in the maelstrom of pending legislation.

One is a definite disposition on the part of many legislators—whether a majority, or a minority, only time and the balloting will determine—to impose several restrictions on the earning power of business and industry.

And the second, which tremendously magnifies the danger of the first, is to increase the costs of business and industrial operations.

Some of the more cynical representatives of legitimate business enterprise, as a result of the legislative trends thus far indicated, have even ventured the opinion that the current legislature may unwittingly finish the restruction begun by the depression—sapping the profits of the few businesses which have managed to survive the five years of economic upheaval.

As one caustic observer expressed it, "Any one who has made money during the depression is suspect!"

NEW TAX SOURCES DEMANDED

In fairness to the legislature, it should be set forth, however, that the lawmakers are faced with an insistent demand for new tax sources to maintain governmental functions —and an equally insistent demand to afford new protection to both employed and unemployed workers.

The real blame lies not so much with the legislature as with the people themselves, for all legislatures reflect, at least in large measure, the attitude of the folks back home. It may be truthfully said that the unrest in Sacramento mirrors a similar unrest on the part of the rank and file of citizens who are looking to the state in ever increasing numbers to solve their personal problems.

Confronted with this dilemma, and myriad other problems of the depression, the legislators are pondering scores of bills calling for further licensing, and regulation of business and industrial establishments, nuisances taxes, income and turnover taxes, and "production-for-use" schemes which involve competition with nearly every branch of agriculture and industry. In addition to these measures, which would greatly decrease income, business and industry also are confronted with such moves as the attempt to industrialize the state prisons and place prison-made goods on the market in competition with the products of free labor.

And on the other side of the slate, the farmers and the business men face a legislative trend toward upping their overhead by such proposals as the 30-hour week and various measures to extend and increase compensation insurance payments.

Indicative of the most hectic period in the history of any recent California legislature during the closing weeks of the session, the legislators, with only about thirty working days remaining, have thus far failed to take decisive action on any of the many major problems before them. The grave tax problems, for example is no nearer solution than it was at the start of the session in January.

From the standpoint of California agriculture—and from the standpoint of the state as a whole, in fact—the vital need during the closing weeks is for constructive, rather than destructive action. While it is recognized that the problems of the worker are acute, it must also be recognized that "killing the goose which lays the golden egg" will only serve to turn depression into disaster.

To the taxpayer and average citizen, it would seem that the Legislature needs to be reminded of the basic principles of the New Deal—business, agricultural and industrial recovery.

SCHIFFNER FAMILY IS HOME FROM MOTOR TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Schiffner, Delbert Schiffner, Cecil Schiffner and Robert Schiffner returned Sunday from a ten day motor trip which took them into Arizona and Nevada.

They left early Saturday morning April 13 and went south to Los Angeles, then to Barstow and from there to the Grand Canyon, then back to Kingman, Arigona, and from Kingman to the Boulder Dam, thence to Las Vegas, Death Valley, Tonopah and home via Reno. Highlights of the trip were the gorgeous wild flowers around Bakersfield, the painted wonders of the Grand Canyon and the man-made monolith of the Boulder Dam. Two thousand-four hundred miles were covered during the trip.

Bon Voyage to Georgia Renfrow

Miss Dolly Jefferson was hostess Thursday evening to a delightful "Bon Voyage" handkerchief shower in honor of Miss Georgia Renfrow who will soon depart for the Philippines.

Games and Dutch whist were played during the evening. Whist prizes were won by Virginia Day and Mrs. Helen Horrell.

At intervals during the evening, Mrs. J. V. Wood, mother of the guest of honor, related interesting customs of the islands, illustrating her talk with head axes, small tables, pictures and Igorote hats which she brought home on her return trip from the Philippines last fall. A buffet lunch was served from a long table with a picturesque centerpiece modeled on a mirror, featuring San Francisco bay and the Lsle of Luzon, with ships, sea shells and native sand.

Those present to wish Miss Renfrow a pleasant voyage were: Misses Virginia Day, Dorothy Feagan, Erma Keller, Priscilla Penrose, Dorothy V. Thomas, Naomi Whitley, Phylis and Margery Williams and Mesdames Helen Harrell of Grass Valley. Valencia Hurst, Jessie Robinson, J. V. Wood, Earl Ricard and F. Jefferson.

WEEKLY COMMENT

BY

Christian Andersen

In our great State Capitol on Friday the Easter show windows were resplendent in their Easter trim, the hotels were well filled probably because the visiting assemblymen, their wives and entourage are the guests. On one of the thoroughfares to the freight depot and the warehouses we passed the cheap rooming houses and the 15c for a full meal eating places, jostling each other for the meagre business afforded by the poor. Moochers somehow have their eye on strangers and their touch "for a cup of coffee, please," in almost every block. The stench of stale liquor usualy take care of the overflow from breadlines and charity bunds, therefore, it's usefulness.

In North Sacramento looms a doughnut shop which makes, if eyes didn't trick the writer, the largest doughnuts in the world. A constant trickle of customers drive up, get their sack of goodies and with a doughnut in each mouth and wisecracks on their lips, roll on into the night to other adventures or home to finish the bridge game.

As a lark and to save money I caught a ride into Sacramento on Thursday evening and caught the same truck out again on Friday morning. I rode in the back with the merchandise and as the scenery unrolled itself in pastel shades of artists' dreams and wild flowers made patterns of the primary colors as well as their complimentaries with the vivid green background, the picture made the rough ride worth while. Midway t'wixt Auburn and Grass Valley we passed a friend and with much motioning and rapping on the sides of my freight limousine I got a stop made and changed horses or rather horse power in the middle of the stream.

Governor Merriam seems to be between Mephistopheles and the salt blue sea, all on account of his veto of the seventy car train bill, and EPIC labor bill. All the dire things which can happen to politicians are being threatened, but don't hold your beath until he is recalled. Frank Merriam and his sponsors are not so foolish as to let any one get behind them in a wrestling match.

The Nevada County mines contributing $305,000 in new money to the wealth of the community each month. An industrial city or community may have a payroll of more than that, but in that case it is only taking ready made money from one community to transfer it to another. In the case of Nevada County mines payroll the money is new money adding to the wealth of the world. That seems to me to be worth protecting and without any boot-licking, to do all in our power to maintain.

Now there won't be an argument with me about free mail delivery. Perhaps Uncle Sam can stand the expense. However, the adventure of going down town for the mail would be lost to many of us. We are after all still a little mountain town and the charm of the small town is in it's primitive institutions, not to the point of stopping progress of course. But let us keep enough of the old system to retain the small town characteristics until such a time as actual need calls for something different. Of course I may be soaking wet and maybe you don't agree.

RELIEF NOT FOR THOSE WHO ARE OFFERED JOBS

The State Emergency Relief Administration is anxious to cooperate in the fullest possible way with growers and industrial and business concerns to the end that the SERA shall not compete with private industry in the employment of labor.

At its meeting in San Francisco on February 16, 1935, the State Relief Commission passed a resolution which states in part:

"Resolved—that relief to clients, who are furnished with opportunity in private industry to earn the amount of their budget requirements as determined by the State Emergency Relief Administration, be discontinued, providing that such employment does not involve their working for more than a reasonable number of hours weekly and— or adult members of the families be required to engage in such employment in earning the families' budget deficiencies."

In other words, any person who is offered an opportunity to earn a decent living with reasonable hours of work will be removed from the relief rolls.

To accomplish this the local Administration urges employers to procure their labor through its organization or that of the National Reemployment Service.

It is further believed that good citizenship demands that a report be made to the local SERA office where it is found that an individual on the relief rolls has refused gainful employment from private industry in accordance with the above provision.

SKEPTIC

Math Professor—Now, Mr. Zilchguard, if I lay three egs here and five eggs there, how many will I have?

Mr. Zilchguard (skeptically)—I don't believe you can do it, sir.

"I'm glad you're so impressed, dear, by these explanations I've been making about banking and economics," remarked the young husband.

"Yes, darling. It seems wonderful that anybody could know as much as you do about money without having any of it."

"If you really love me, George," said the sweet young thing, "why doesn't your chest go up and down like the men in the movies"

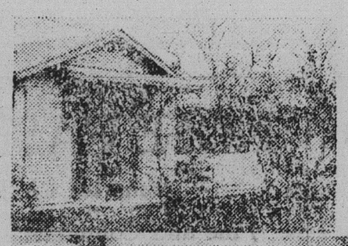
Range and Water Heater with Half-Price Electricity

GIVE DISCOUNT OF $3.58 A MONTH in this Stockton Home



Read this statement by
H. E. CONSTANT
Route 2, Box 164, Stockton

"LAST NOVEMBER I installed an electric range and water heater which were added to my other electric appliances such as a pressure system, radio, electric sewing machine, electric refrigerator, etc.

"In January, 1935, I used 562 KWH., which would have cost me $11.17 under the regular rate. Under the ONE-HALF OFF plan, because my January, 1934, bill was only $4.14—I paid only $7.65. This gave me a saving of $3.52. Again in February, 1935, my bill with the ½ Off discount showed a saving of $3.58.

"During 1934, under the regular rate, my bill for electricity averaged $6.11 per month. Therefore, with the addition of the electric range and water heater, my bill should not average more than $2.50 per month over the monthly bills of 1934."

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF BARGAIN PRICE ELECTRICITY

½ OFF EXTRA Electricity means: When your electric bill in any month of 1935 is greater than your bill for the corresponding month of 1934, at same location, YOU GET A 50% DISCOUNT ON THE DIFFERENCE.
